

Integrated Satellite Experts Luncheon Symposium of
The Liver Week 2025

Evolving paradigms in PBC management

Saturday 31 May, 12:20 – 13:00
Room 3, HICO (2F)

Kyung-Ah Kim (Chair)
*Inje University,
S. Korea*

Kris Kowdley
*Liver Institute Northwest,
USA*

Join our Luncheon Symposium as they discuss the importance of a holistic approach to PBC care that focuses on the patient perspective, including how to manage the disease from this viewpoint and identify patients who may benefit from more proactive second-line treatment strategies in the upcoming era of PPAR agonists

12:20 Welcome and introduction

12:25 Evolution of PBC Care: What Comes Next? and audience Q&A

12:55 Summary and close

ORDINARY PEOPLE WITH EXTRAORDINARY AMBITIONS

OUR FOCUS ON LIVER DISEASE IS

RAVING

The word "RAVING" is rendered in large, bold, blue capital letters. Each letter serves as a frame for a different photograph of a person. The 'R' shows a woman with long dark hair. The 'A' features a young boy with glasses. The 'V' is a close-up of a woman's face. The 'I' shows a woman with blonde hair, which is the central focus of the collage. The 'N' depicts a woman with dark hair. The 'G' shows a woman with dark hair. The final 'E' features a woman with dark hair.

IPSEN HELPS PEOPLE LIVE LIFE TO THE FULLEST EVERY DAY

ELA-KR-000013 | May 2026